A MESSAGE FROM THE MANAGER

I am pleased to share with the UTM community our Annual Report for 2016. I am very proud of the personal commitment to the success of our campus demonstrated by members of the UTM Campus Police. Their professionalism, creativity and team work, coupled with our community partnerships have allowed us to support and meet the needs of our students, faculty, staff and visitors on campus.

The University of Toronto Mississauga is a very safe community, a fact of which the Campus Police is very proud. The members of the service are also members of our community. They actively and enthusiastically participate in several committees and groups dedicated to improving the quality of the students experience on campus.

Included in this report is an update on the activities and initiatives of the UTM Campus Police, including a statistical incident analysis. As you read through this material, you will gain an appreciation of how our officers constantly strive to support the Mission Statements of both the Campus Police and the University of Toronto.

I encourage you to review this material, and then share your thoughts on how, collaboratively, we can work together to provide the highest standard of service and professionalism to our campus

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO

MISSISSAUGA

With numerous restaurants, a theatre, 1700 students and families in residence, offices, laboratories, classrooms, recreational and physical fitness facilities, health care providers, classrooms, parks and trails, 13,500 undergraduate and 500 graduate students, 2,300 staff and faculty, and countless visitors and guests on a daily basis. The University of Toronto Mississauga Campus is truly a city within a city. Unlike most cities however, University Campus Police agencies face an ever-changing population, with many students graduating every year and new student arriving. Therefore the ability of campus police to build long-term relationships with our student population is obviously more challenging than within other types of traditional communities.

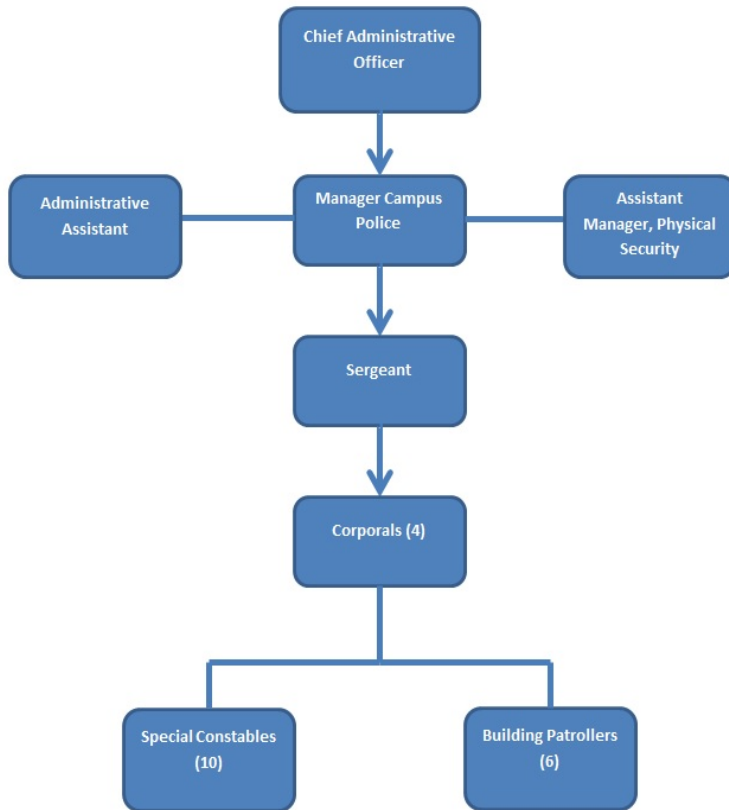

We, therefore, rely heavily on Community Based Police (CBP) to help forge these relationships. CBP provides structure for the police to support our community in creating mutual and proactive problem solving. Within this structure we partner with many departments and organizations, both within and outside the University, to broaden our impact in providing a safe environment for our community to live, work, and learn.

Organizational Overview

UTM Campus Police consist of a total of 24 staff members. As reflected in the organizational chart on page 4, the department is composed of a Manager, an Assistant Manager responsible for physical security and access control, a staff sergeant, four Corporals, 10 Special Constables, 6 Building Patrollers and an administrative assistant.

All officers are approved as Special Constables by the Peel Regional Police Services Board. They have the powers of a peace officer while engaged in their duties at U of T Mississauga for the purposes of enforcing the Criminal Code of Canada, and selected provincial and municipal statutes. The Building Patrollers are all licenced and uniformed security guards who play an integral part in supplementing the mandate of the Special Constables.

Additionally, Campus Police has been tasked with upgrading our electronic access control and security systems. To that end the position of an assistant manager responsible for these systems was created in 2016. Work is now well underway to amalgamate our systems to achieve even greater efficiencies in this area.

Operations

The Corporals, Special Constables, and Building Patrollers, comprise the “front-line” staff. Some of their duties and responsibilities include general patrol duties, traffic duties, responding to calls for service, dispatch and office duties, investigating occurrences, preparing reports, and promoting as well as participating in community policing and crime prevention programs.

Corporals have the added responsibility of directing and instructing Special Constables and Building Patrollers, assisting in their training, allocating work assignments, assisting with and reviewing written reports. In the absence of a Corporal, the senior Special Constable on duty is delegated the duties of Acting Corporal.

The Campus Police maintains its commitment to the continuous training of its officers, as well as Community Based Policing initiatives. Staff were recently added in the following areas: Special Constables two Administrative Assistant one, Building Patrollers six. The increased resources and visible-officer presence on campus has led, we believe, to reduced crime rates during the past year, and an increase in the overall sense of safety within the community.

Training and Recruitment

Effective training and recruitment practices are integral to ensuring that Campus Police fulfills its mandate while adhering to the principles that guide the delivery of that mandate. Recently the three campus police offices formed a recruiting partnership to collaborate in the hiring of recruits, regardless of their campus application. This allows for greater consistency in standards and training provided to these new officers.

Several outside agencies provided a variety of training to Campus Police. Peel Regional Police Service Training Bureau and the UTM Campus Police are now collaborating in training of their respective officers, with the Peel Police offering courses in a variety of subjects, including Use of Force, Advanced Patrol Training, Mental Health Awareness training, etc.

Other outside agencies, such as the Canadian Police Knowledge Network, the Ontario Police Video Training Alliance, the Ontario Association of College and University Security Agencies, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, and the Ontario Police College all contributed to the training of various UTM Special Constables.

Community Based Policing Activity

Community Based Policing is not simply a program offered by police agencies. Rather, it is a philosophy that combines the reactive aspects of law enforcement with proactive measures, mutual problem-solving, engagement of our community, and community partnerships. It is based on the premise that safety is a shared responsibility. For reasons stated earlier, Community Based Policing is particularly challenging in a post-secondary environment.

In its partnership with the University and its surrounding community, U of T Mississauga Campus Police prides itself on the delivery, coordination and participation in a variety of community policing activities throughout the year. These initiatives with students, staff, faculty, visitors and various off-campus community groups and agencies have served to strengthen the collaborative relationship Campus Police enjoy with these groups.

The following list is just some of the activities in 2016:

Student Emergency Fund – The proceeds of unclaimed goods from the Lost and Found are diverted to this fund that assists students in need.

Positive Space Committee - The University's Positive Space Campaign is a ground-breaking program that identifies safer and more inclusive spaces for lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, transsexual, intersexed, queer, questioning, and Two-Spirited (LGBTTIQQ2S) students, staff, faculty, alumni and allies at the University of Toronto. UTM Campus Police are members of this very important committee.

Information Fairs – the Campus Police attended a variety of information fairs during the year, presenting information regarding safety programs, and services offered to our community.

Women's Self-Defence/Safety Planning – Campus Police provide gender specific training for women in self-defence and safety planning.

Wallet Cards – UTM Campus Police and the U of T Community Safety Office collaborated in providing wallet cards to students. These cards contain emergency contact information for a variety of services, and have a detachable key tag, ensuring students always have emergency numbers readily available.

Toronto Pride Parade – Campus Police proudly participate in this event with our counterparts from the other campuses in a united display of support for the inclusion of our entire community.

Positive Treats for Positive Space - Campus police sponsored this initiative to raise awareness for Positive Space and to support our LGBTTIQQ2S community.
