Chancellor Patten expressed her deep gratitude to members of the College of Electors for choosing her to serve as the University's 34th Chancellor. Dr. Patten said that it was a great honour and that she was humbled by the opportunity to represent the students, faculty, staff and alumni over the next few years; and to use her new role to further the university's mission as one of the world's top research and academic institutions. The Chancellor reflected on her time spent as a member of Governing Council and as its former Chair. She also highlighted her first seven months of office which had included hosting the Chancellors' Circle of Benefactors, attending the National Scholars reception, and being the featured speaker and a presenter at the annual Rose Patten Mentoring Leadership Program reception and many other events. She had also completed her first set of convocations in November 2018.

Members of the College asked questions and applauded the Chancellor for her service to the University.
