

AODA Report, 2018-19 - UAB

Monday, 29 April 2019

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO

Ben Poynton
AODA Officer
aoda.utoronto.ca

What is the AODA?

“ A law that sets out a process for developing and enforcing accessibility standards...[which] will help us reach the goal of an accessible Ontario by 2025 ”

The Approach

Address barriers to accessibility

- Attitudinal
- Information & communications
- Physical
- Systemic
- Technological

The Standards

Integrated Accessibility
Standards Regulation

General Requirements

Information &
Communications

Employment

Transportation

Design of Public Spaces

Customer Service

Ontario Human Rights Code

Key Sections

A brief timeline

2010 – Customer service

2012 – Elements of IASR (emergency prep)

2013 – Procurement, training to educators, plans & policies

2014 – Web accessibility, training, feedback, employment

2015 – Accessible formats communication supports, Ontario

Building Code

2016 – Design of public spaces

2020 – Libraries (multimedia)

2021 – Additional web accessibility

The AODA Report & Plan

- Requirement of the AODA
- Highlights work of community
- Opportunity to reflect
- Provides next steps

AODA Annual Report & Plan

2018-2019

Report Highlights

- Accessible built environment, accessible communications, accessible service delivery, innovations & partnerships, pedagogy, mental health
- UTSC recreational trail | Transforming Instructional Landscape
- Web Accessibility Specialist
- Updates to service animal guidelines
- Prize-winning students (IDeA)
- Exploring integrated learning
- Identify, Assist & Refer
- Next steps

The AODA Office

- Resource and guide on AODA & accessibility
- Provide training, online & in-person
- Consultation and partnerships
- Institutional reporting

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO

aoda@UofT

Questions

