PREVIOUS ACTION TAKEN:

The current University of Toronto Scarborough Strategic Plan was approved by the UTSC Campus Council on April 24, 2014, and confirmed by the Executive Committee, on May 12, 2014.

HIGHLIGHTS:

In Fall 2018, UTSC embarked on a participatory strategic planning exercise, informed by the community's collective values and priorities, to shape the campus's future direction for the next five years (i.e. 2020-2025). Within the context of institutional priorities, a comprehensive consultation process commenced.

Included in the consultative process were faculty, staff, students, and members of the extended UTSC community (e.g. alumni, community and government representatives, and campus partners). The consultation forums included student engagement events, town halls, online feedback, surveys, and engagement with external stakeholders. In total, approximately 1,100 individuals from the wider UTSC community were involved in consultations related to the strategic planning process.

The participatory planning exercise also invited members of the internal UTSC community to serve on strategic plan working groups. In November 2018, a Call for Nominations was issued, and in response to the Call, eight working groups composed of committed members of the internal UTSC community was struck. The working groups focused on Research and Scholarly Excellence; Community Connections, Partnerships, and Networks; Indigenous Peoples and Truth and Reconciliation; Equity and Inclusion; Healthy Learning and Working Environments; Collaborative, Synergistic, and Interdisciplinary Academic Programs, Transformative Teaching and Learning, and Institutional Processes and Structures. The working groups met between January 2019 and July 2019 to identify priorities, consult with relevant individuals/groups to seek their input, and make recommendations. A final report from each working group was submitted to the strategic plan steering committee in Summer 2019.

Additional consultations were held between Fall 2019 and Winter 2020 with external community members and the senior institutional leadership including the President and the Vice-Presidential leadership team. During the same period, the final strategic plan was drafted.

Consequently, Inspiring Inclusive Excellence: A Strategic Vision for the University of Toronto Scarborough is the result of a thorough and extensive consultative process.

It positions the University of Toronto Scarborough as the embodiment of inclusive excellence, a bold community of conscientious and adaptable global leaders in scholarship, innovation, teaching and learning, who constructively disrupt the status quo, connect the world, and advance transformative change for the good of all.

In alignment with the vision, mission, and values of the institution and the campus, Inspiring Inclusive Excellence focuses on five priority areas:

- 1) Innovative, High Quality Undergraduate and Graduate Experience & Success
- 2) Scholarly Prominence in Established and Emerging Areas
- 3) Intentional Inclusion and Relational Accountability
- 4) Deep and Enduring Local, National and Global Partnerships & Networks
- 5) Participatory Decision Making and Supportive Administrative Capacity

To underpin each priority, clear strategic directions, objectives, and initiatives are highlighted in the plan. Implementation strategies would be developed to operationalize each priority, which would then be measured against a scorecard for reporting and evaluating progress.
