Annual Report: Recognized Student Groups, University of Toronto Mississauga

JURISDICTIONAL INFORMATION:

Section 5.6 of the University Affairs Board Terms of Reference states that “The Board receives annually, from the appropriate administrators, reports on services within its areas of responsibility, including but not limited to multi-campus services and offices, Campus Police, Human Resources and Equity, crisis response, and campus organizations”.

Section 5.9 of the UTM Campus Affairs Committee Terms of Reference states that “The Committee receives annually, from the appropriate administrators, reports on services within its areas of responsibility, including but not limited to campus police and campus organizations. These reports are submitted to the University Affairs Board for information”.

Section III.c of the Policy on the Recognition of Student Groups states that "All administrative decisions to grant, deny, or withdraw recognition will be reported regularly to the University Affairs Board for information."

GOVERNANCE PATH:

1. UTM Campus Affairs Committee [For Information] (May 7, 2024)
2. University Affairs Board [For Information] (May 29, 2024)

PREVIOUS ACTION TAKEN:

This annual report was last presented to the University Affairs Board on May 31, 2023.

HIGHLIGHTS:

A student group seeking University recognition must submit an annual application and constitution to the UTM Centre for Student Engagement. As of April 15, 2024, for the 2023-2024 academic year, there were 140 student groups recognized; none were denied.

In addition, UTM recognizes 17 academic societies, associated with academic departments, and ten affiliated organizations that offer services to students who subsidize them (such as student governments and student-run media, for which membership is automatic and based on students' registration).

FINANCIAL IMPLICATIONS:

There are no financial implications for the University's operating budget.

RECOMMENDATION:

This report is provided for information.

DOCUMENTATION PROVIDED:

Subject: University of Toronto Mississauga Recognized Student Groups, 2023-24

The size and diversity of the student community on the University of Toronto Mississauga campus provides an extraordinary number of opportunities for students to participate in a vast array of activities undertaken by student organizations. Participation in these groups forms an integral part of the student experience. Student groups contribute, in a variety of ways, to the educational, intellectual, recreational, social, and cultural life of the University of Toronto community. For many students, involvement in voluntary student organizations is not only a traditional part of campus life; it forms a significant component of their learning while at the University.

Many recognized student organizations engage in co-curricular activities that enrich the participation of their members in their own academic programs. Involvement in a student organization can also provide significant learning opportunities for students with respect to leadership, civic and community engagement, and organizational capacity. Since many student organizations address the complex issues of the world around us, engagement in a student group can often provide important opportunities to be exposed to different ideas and perspectives. This helps the University provide meaningful opportunities for debate and dissent, and to foster the development of students' understanding of difference. Finally, participation in student groups provides one means by which students integrate and engage with small communities within the University of Toronto.

In 2022-23, the University of Toronto Mississauga saw a decrease of recognized student groups compared to the previous year, ending with 107 recognized groups. In our following 2023-24 academic year, student and group engagement has increased at a substantial rate. The Mississauga campus experienced a heavier than previously experienced and expected number of recognition applications during mid-September to mid-October. This was a result of many novel, smaller grassroots groups seeking recognition combining with our more established and historic groups. On top of this heavy initial recognition application influx, we experienced routine questions from students looking for support on creating new groups, leading to consistent applications for groups throughout the year. These high levels of student engagement and resilience resulted in 140 recognized student groups, which is the highest number of recognized groups over the past 3 years.

In further reflection of the dedication of our students in supporting and creating a vibrant and active community, the number of funding applications to the Centre for Student Engagement has greatly increased as well. This year the Centre for Student Engagement introduced a new BIPOC Student Engagement Fund alongside the regular Student Engagement Fund and hoped these funds would serve as additional incentive towards student group recognition. The successful use of these funds and the high number of recognized groups surpassed our expectations and is another indicator of the strength of the student community we have at the University of Toronto Mississauga.

In accordance with the University's Policy on the Recognition of Student Groups (the Policy), this is a report on administrative decisions to grant, deny, or withdraw recognition for groups based on the University of Toronto campus in this academic year. The student groups listed below have been granted recognition until September 30, 2024.

All groups that have been granted recognition for the 2023-24 academic year are listed in this memorandum.

Recognition of student groups by the University provides several benefits and opportunities:

1. the right to use the name of the University in the name of the group and in conjunction with group activities;
2. eligibility to use University facilities and meeting spaces at no cost or at a lower cost compared to external organizations;
3. eligibility to apply for temporary office space;
4. listings in select University directories as a University-recognized student group;
5. verification letters confirming recognition status (sometimes required by banks and other external organizations); and
6. access to other University services and resources made available from time to time.

A student organization seeking recognition must submit an annual application to The Centre for Student Engagement along with a copy of group's constitution. The constitution outlines the group's purpose, objectives, and procedures. It addresses organizational structure, membership, meetings, the election or appointment of members in leadership positions, amendments to the constitution, and rules of conduct. A commitment to democracy and accountability to members should also be reflected.

Full membership in a recognized student group (including eligibility to vote and serve in a leadership position) must be open to any currently registered University of Toronto student from any division. While discriminatory membership practices are not allowed, it is acknowledged that certain groups could well be homogeneous in nature without being discriminatory. Status as non-voting members may be extended to other University community members or interested persons from outside the University.

Groups seeking recognition by the University must be genuine student organizations and generally non-profit in nature. A recognized student group cannot be controlled by any external body. However, many organizations are affiliated with provincial, national, or international bodies and other external groups.

Under the terms of the Policy, the University will not attempt to censor, control or interfere with any group on the basis of its philosophy, beliefs, interests or opinions expressed unless and until these lead to activities which are illegal or which infringe the rights and freedoms of others within the community. By the same token, recognition as a student group implies neither endorsement of a group's beliefs or philosophy, nor the assumption of legal liability for the group's activities.

Please note that, pursuant to the Policy, the recognition of student groups which draw their membership from only one academic division is delegated to the governance body of that division.

It is important to note that there are hundreds of additional clubs, many athletics and recreation activities, Hart House clubs and committees, as well as recognized student groups based on other campuses which, while not listed here, add significantly to the educational, intellectual, recreational, social, and cultural life of the U of T community. In addition, many students are involved in student governments, college and faculty student societies, course unions, and departmental student associations.

Other Campus Student Organizations

UTM has additional student organizations that are not required to renew each year. The organizations are academic in nature, uniting students within a specific program or field of study. Though these groups do not fall within the purview of the Policy on Recognition of Campus Groups, they are student run with collaboration between the academic department and the elected student leaders.

All students are represented by each of the academic societies, depending on their program of study.

The list of all academic societies are listed below:

1. Department of Visual Studies and Student Society
2. English & Drama Students Society
3. Erindale Biology Society
4. Erindale Society of Chemical & Physical Sciences
5. Forensics Society
6. Historical Studies Society at UTM

15. Student Association of Geography and Environment (SAGE)
16. Undergraduate Economics Council (ECS)
17. UTM Anthropology Society (UTMAS)

Total number of academic societies: 17

Recognized UTM Affiliates

UTM affiliates are groups, subsidized by students, which offer a campus service. Many students participate actively or passively with many of the services during their studies at UTM. Though these groups do not fall within the purview of the Policy on Recognition of Groups, they do offer a vital service to students and the broader UTM community. Members, staff, and volunteers of these organizations are students (though some professional staff are hired within the organizations as well).

The list of UTM affiliates is listed below:

1. Erindale College Special Response Team (ECSpeRT)
2. CFRE Radio 91.9M
3. Medical Society
4. Sexual Education & Peer Support Centre
5. The Medium
