Tri-Council Funding: Why It Matters

- More Tri-council $ at UTM =
- from 10 CRC slots in 2018 to 16 CRC slots in 2025
- from $442K CFI-JELF in 2018 to $880K in 2024

- Also factor into Federal Government allocations of graduate student funding Canada Research Training Awards Suite
- And factors into Ontario's performance-based funding formula for allocating operating grants to universities

Key learning from the research metrics data

- UTM in on an upward trend in terms of external research revenues
- UTM ranked 4th/5th since 2017 among UofT 5 multidepartment divisions
- The main driver for the 2024 spike in research revenues is due to one large grant
- UTM success rates for the tri-council operating grant programs are generally better than UofT and National averages in recent years
- UTM's share of Tri-council funding is used to allocate additional resources that are critical to UTM's bottom line

Coming up next fall to the AAC:

1. Research performance metrics showing UTM's opportunities to attract more resources to UTM e.g. CRC, CFI JELF, Research Support Fund, graduate student funding

2. Strategies to leverage UTM's research opportunities
