AGENDA ITEM: 4

ITEM IDENTIFICATION: Constitutional Amendments: Faculty of Applied Science & Engineering

JURISDICTIONAL INFORMATION:

The Governing Council has the authority to establish faculty and college councils and to determine the composition, powers, and duties of those councils under the provisions of the University of Toronto Act, 1971, Section 2 (14)(i).

Section 5.2.2 of the Academic Board's terms of reference calls for amended divisional constitutions to be considered by the Board and confirmed by the Executive Committee. Amendments to By-laws are approved by divisional councils.

GOVERNANCE PATH:

1. Agenda Committee (March 11, 2014) – for information
2. Academic Board (March 20, 2014) – for approval
3. Executive Committee (March 27, 2014) – for confirmation

PREVIOUS ACTION TAKEN:

On October 28, 2010, the Governing Council approved in principle the Report of the Task Force on Governance and the 32 recommendations outlined in the Report. Recommendation 15 provides for the re-distribution of and greater delegation of responsibilities. Specifically, the Task Force recommended that, as a guiding principle, transactional matters be delegated to either the lowest appropriate level within governance, or where appropriate, to the administration, with reporting back of decisions to a suitable level of governance.

An Implementation Committee, established by the Governing Council in October 2010 and led by then Vice-Chair Richard Nunn, was charged with overseeing and coordinating implementation of the Task Force's recommendations, ensuring appropriate participation among relevant bodies of governance, administrative offices and the Secretariat. The Implementation Committee's work on revisions to Board and Committee Terms of Reference led to Governing Council approval in May 2011 of the re-alignment of responsibilities among the Committee on Academic Policy and Programs, the Planning and Budget Committee, the Academic Board and the divisional councils with respect to academic program review and approval. These revisions were derived from two parallel processes – (1) that of the University’s Quality Assurance Process arising from the Council of Ontario Universities, and (2) the recommendations of the Task Force Report intended to vest academic decision-making and oversight with the institution’s expert academic bodies.

In June, 2011, Principals and Deans were advised of the need for amendments to the constitutions of the academic divisions arising from changes to the approval processes for proposals for new academic programs and modification of existing programs. During the summer and early fall, 2011, representatives from the Office of the Governing Council and the Office of the Vice-President and Provost met with divisional representatives to discuss the required constitutional and related by-laws changes as well as the implications for divisional processes. Updated templates for divisional constitutions and by-laws were provided in order to enable greater consistency across the University, and divisional representatives were encouraged to draw freely from the templates when drafting revisions to their documents.

In September 2012, Dean Cristina Amon struck a Task Force to Review the Faculty’s Constitution. The review was separated into two parts: revisions to the Constitution to bring it into alignment with the University of Toronto’s best practices and to reflect changes to its delegated authority, and an examination of the composition of Council.

At its April 2013 meeting, with the requisite two-thirds majority of members present and voting, Council approved changes to modernize and standardize the language in its Constitution, and the incorporation of provisions regarding the delegation of authority to approve proposals for major and minor modifications to existing academic programs, and to recommend for approval to the appropriate body of Governing Council proposals for new academic programs. At that time, it was decided to delay the submission of the revised Constitution to Governing Council until Dean Amon had received and considered the recommendations of the Task Force regarding Council’s composition.

In October 2013, after extensive consultation, Dean Amon announced to Council her decision to not act on the Task Force recommendations to change the composition of Council at that time.

Upon approval of this Constitution by the Governing Council, this Constitution replaces the Constitution of the Faculty of Applied Science and Engineering first approved in June 1972 and last revised in November 1997.

HIGHLIGHTS:

All divisions were asked to incorporate into their constitutions provisions for the following powers and duties of Council.

Academic Programs

- Council's responsibility for overseeing the content of academic programs and courses of study that lead to degrees, diplomas, certificates, credit and non-credit courses over which the Faculty has authority.
- Council's authority to recommend for approval to the appropriate body of Governing Council proposals for new academic programs.
- Council's delegated authority to approve proposals for major and minor modifications to existing academic programs. (Definitions of major modifications of existing programs, minor modifications, and new academic programs are provided in the University of Toronto Quality Assurance Process and are subject to change.)
- Council's delegated authority to approve proposals for the modification of existing diploma and certificate programs, pursuant to the University's Policy on Diploma and Certificate Programs.
- Academic and Interdisciplinary Units
Council's responsibility to consider and recommend for approval to the Governing Council proposals concerning academic units and extra-departmental units, pursuant to the Policy on Interdisciplinary Education and Research Planning.
- Review of Academic Programs and Units
Council's responsibility to consider and discuss a review report of an academic program and/or unit of the Faculty, consistent with the protocol outlined in the University of Toronto Quality Assurance Process.
- Transcript Notations
Council's delegated authority to approve transcript notations within existing degree programs, in accordance with University policy. An annual report on such actions, as required by policy, must be provided for information to the appropriate body of Governing Council.

At the same time as the above changes have been made, the Faculty is bringing forward two other amendments to its Constitution as follows:

- Addition of Section C6 Quorum "The quorum for meetings of Council shall be 45 members."
[carried over from Bylaws]
- Addition of Section C11.2 Amendment of the Constitution of and Bylaws "The Bylaws of Council may only be amended with the approval of a two-thirds majority of Council members present and voting. Voting shall take place at a regularly constituted meeting to which there has been not less than 30 days' notice of the proposed amendment." [new]

Beyond the above, changes to the FASE Constitution's wording and organization of the constitution has been significantly altered to follow more closely the constitutional template provided by the Office of the Governing Council to all divisions.

FINANCIAL IMPLICATIONS:

There are no financial resource implications.
