PREAMBLE

There are two categories of research positions. The normal qualifications for each category are the same, an advanced degree (e.g., PhD, MD or equivalent) in the field where the research is to be carried out. The distinction between the two categories rests on whether the position is analogous to a career position or whether the position is for a relatively short period of time from which the incumbent would move to a faculty or other position.

Senior Research Associate positions are continuing positions where it is expected that grant funding for the position will continue. Such positions will be terminated only under the conditions of this Policy. Research Associates (Limited Term) will be appointed on a limited term, renewable to a total of five years. The combined terms may not exceed this total of five years.

While the work of Research Associates (Limited Term) and Senior Research Associates is academic in nature, they are not members of the teaching staff. These individuals are intrinsically involved in research projects where they contribute, by way of their academic expertise, to the projects directed by the principal investigator. From time to time, they may be asked to participate in the teaching program of the department or division. Any teaching will be a minor part of the individual's activity and should not be assigned on a continuing basis. Any teaching assigned must be in compliance with the collective agreement between the University and CUPE 3902 Unit 3.

It is important that the positions of Research Associate (Limited Term) or Senior Research Associate be used only in circumstances where an individual meets the qualifications for the position as described above and is carrying out research responsibilities with a high degree of independence, albeit under the direction of the principal investigator. In exceptional circumstances, where the chair of the department so recommends and the dean approves, and where the policies and terms and conditions of the funding sources permit, a Senior Research Associate may act as co-investigator with a University of Toronto faculty member on a project.

In developing a set of policies and procedures for Research Associates (Limited Term) and Senior Research Associates, it was recognized that any policy or procedure should retain a high degree of flexibility for the principal investigator while at the same time providing fair and equitable treatment to individuals holding these research positions.

These policies apply to all staff appointed Senior Research Associates and Research Associates (Limited Term), full-time or part-time, unless otherwise stated in policy.

Questions concerning these Policies or related procedures or guidelines may be directed to the appropriate divisional HR Office.

* The University retains the right to modify or amend these policies in whole or in part from time to time on the giving of written notice to staff members of changes in the policies as the University, in its sole discretion, considers appropriate.

SECTION II: APPOINTMENT CONDITIONS

POLICY: EMPLOYMENT STATUSCODE NUMBER: 2.01.01

DEFINITIONSSenior Research Associate

Senior Research Associate positions are continuing positions where it is expected that grant funding for the position will continue.

Continuing staff members have no predetermined end date and hold positions that are considered by the employing unit as part of the staff complement of the unit and whose employment will continue unless terminated by the University in accordance with Section V: Termination (Senior Research Associates) or by an employee, for example through resignation or retirement.

Research Associate (Limited Term)

Research Associate (Limited Term) positions will be for a limited term.

Term appointed staff members are normally hired for an initial appointment of at least six (6) months in duration and have a predetermined end date at which time the appointment will terminate unless an extension is offered and accepted, in writing, before the end of the term indicating the new end date for the appointment. Research Associate (Limited Term) appointments are renewable but the total of all such appointments cannot exceed five years at the University of Toronto.

Leaves of absence, paid or unpaid, do not extend the length of a term appointment. The 5-year term limit applies whether the appointment is full or part-time.

Part-time Status

An appointment as a Senior Research Associate or Research Associate (Limited Term) may be part-time.

A part-time appointment is based on less than 100% of the full-time hours of work, i.e., 36.25 hours per week.

A part-time appointment may not be less than 25%. The part-time appointment must reflect the expected hours to be worked.

Part-time appointments of 25% or more are eligible for various benefit plans. Salary and benefits will be pro-rated according to the percentage time worked.

Part-time Appointments for Family Care

A Senior Research Associate or Research Associate (Limited Term) who has continuous responsibilities for the care of his/her family may request a change to part-time status for a defined period in order to devote more time to their family care responsibilities. In such cases, staff members should direct their request to their immediate supervisor and must make their request as far in advance as possible but in any event, no less than one month prior to the commencement of the requested change in status. The decision of whether or not to grant such a request is at the sole discretion of the supervisor.

Policies for Senior Research Associates & Research Associates (Limited Term)

Questions concerning part-time appointments and the impact on the staff member's salary, benefits, pension and other employment provisions should be directed to the staff member's divisional HR Office.

Change in Appointment

Any change in the terms of an appointment, including a change in FTE, will take effect upon being documented in writing and signed by both the department and the staff member.

Departments should consult with their divisional HR Office prior to making a change in the terms of an appointment.

SECTION II: APPOINTMENT CONDITIONS

POLICY: RECRUITMENT, SELECTION & HIRINGCODE NUMBER: 2.01.02

NOTE: The implementation date of the Research Associates Employment Opportunities website may be subsequent to the effective date of these policies. Until the new website is launched, departments may continue to advertise job opportunities as per current practice.

RECRUITMENTAdvertising

All research associate job opportunities will be advertised on a central Research Associates Employment Opportunities website for a minimum of six (6) working days. Concurrently, the job opportunity may be advertised on the hiring department's website.

Other advertising media may be used (e.g., newspapers, relevant journals), the extent of which is determined by the principal investigator except in the case of an international search.

Job advertisements will include the typical duties and qualifications required, the salary range and source of funding, the type of appointment, the name/title of the person to whom applications should be submitted, the deadline for application, and both the University's equity statement and the HRSDC (Human Resources and Skills Development Canada) statement, as amended from time to time, and available on the University of Toronto website.

In cases of authorization to search internationally, the principal investigator is required to follow the procedures as contained in the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act and its regulations, as amended from time to time.

Normally, all research associate job opportunities will be advertised. However, there may be exceptional circumstances where a department may wish not to advertise for a particular opportunity. Any exceptions to normal practice should be discussed first with the hiring department's divisional HR Office.

OFFER OF EMPLOYMENT

When the University decides to make an offer of employment in respect of a job opportunity, the offer will be made to the candidate who is best qualified for the position taking into account factors such as the candidate's qualifications, skill, education, training, previous related experience, ability and potential, and the requirements of the position.

The successful candidate will be provided with a written letter of offer, which outlines the terms and conditions of employment, and must be signed and returned to the Principal Investigator prior to the start date.

PROBATIONARY PERIOD

A new Senior Research Associate to the University shall be considered probationary until s/he has successfully completed six (6) months of active employment. Whereas, a new Research Associate (Limited Term) shall be considered probationary until s/he has successfully completed no less than four (4) months of active employment.

Policies for Senior Research Associates & Research Associates (Limited Term)

The staff member's employment may be terminated by the University at any time during the probationary period upon giving appropriate notice in accordance with the Employment Standards Act of Ontario, as amended from time to time (See Section V, Termination of Employment).

A staff member who is hospitalized or confined by order of a doctor or public health unit because of sickness or accident while on scheduled vacation will be considered eligible for Sick Leave during the period of hospitalization or confinement providing the staff member provides a doctor's note confirming the period of hospitalization or confinement.

If the employee wishes to change the date of return to a later date (but subject to the maximum length of leave set out in these policies), she must give the University four (4) weeks' written notice before the date the leave was to end.

ELIGIBILITY FOR SUB (Supplementary Unemployment Benefit) BENEFITS

For staff appointed Senior Research Associates and Research Associates (Limited Term) with one (1) year of service or more with the University, the University will pay ninety-five (95) percent of regular salary during the two (2) week waiting period for Employment Insurance benefits, and for up to the next sixteen (16) weeks, will pay the difference between Employment Insurance benefits and ninety-five (95) percent of regular salary, provided that the employee applies for and receives Employment Insurance benefits. In no case will the total amount of the University paid supplement plus Employment Insurance benefits plus any other earnings received by the staff member exceed 95% of regular earnings.

For staff appointed Senior Research Associates and Research Associates (Limited Term) with less than one (1) year of service, the University will pay the above noted top-up prorated according to the percentage of a whole year and FTE that the employee worked before the first day of the leave, provided that the employee applies for and receives Employment Insurance benefits.

In the case of a staff member whose employment is limited to a defined term, the pregnancy leave will be limited to the period of time remaining in the contract of employment. In this situation, the staff member may be eligible for Employment Insurance benefits for the remaining period beyond her contract of employment.

In such case the provisions of the Paid Sick Leave policy and the Long Term Disability Plan (if eligible) shall come into effect until a) the actual date the employee's baby is born or b) the expected date of delivery or c) the date she intended to start her pregnancy leave as stated in her written notice, whichever comes first.

SECTION III: EMPLOYMENT CONDITIONS

POLICY: PAYMENT OF SALARY ON DEATH

CODE NUMBER: 3.01.06

In the event of the death of a staff member, the University will pay his/her estate the full salary and vacation pay accrued to the end of the month in which the death occurred.

SECTION III: EMPLOYMENT CONDITIONS

POLICY: COMPENSATIONCODE NUMBER: 3.01.07

INTRODUCTION

The objectives of the University's compensation program for Research Associates (Limited Term) and Senior Research Associates are: to enable the University to attract and retain highly qualified staff; to differentiate pay levels on the basis of performance and experience; and, to reward excellence.

SALARY RANGES

There are separate salary ranges for Research Associates (Limited Term) and Senior Research Associates:

- The salary range for Research Associates (Limited Term) is structured with a minimum and a maximum.
- The salary range for Senior Research Associates is structured with a minimum, a breakpoint and a notional maximum.

No staff member may be paid below the published salary range minimum.

* IMPLEMENTATION NOTE: Staff members who are currently paid below the new salary range minimum, effective April 1, 2012, will have their salaries raised to the new minimum incrementally over a designated period of time, to be determined in consultation with the PI, Chair and HR Office.

It is expected that, in most cases, the salary of a Research Associate (Limited Term) will not exceed the maximum. However, there may be circumstances where an exception is warranted; all Research Associate (Limited Term) salaries above the salary range maximum must be approved by the applicable division head.

In the case of Senior Research Associates, salaries above the notional maximum must first be approved by the Vice-President, Human Resources & Equity, upon the recommendation of the applicable division head.

Movement through the salary ranges is achieved through merit increases.

The salary ranges are adjusted annually and published in the Annual Salary Increase Instructions for Senior Research Associates and Research Associates (Limited Term), which are posted on the HR & Equity website.

STARTING SALARIES

Starting salaries should be commensurate with the successful candidate's qualifications and experience in relation to the position for which they are being hired.

PROBATIONARY PERIODS AND INCREASES

While increases are not generally given during the probationary period, if the staff member's probationary period overlaps with the annual salary adjustment program, the supervisor may, in his/her sole discretion, consider awarding a merit increase at the successful end of the probationary period.

ANNUAL SALARY ADJUSTMENT PROGRAM

Salaries will be reviewed on an annual basis.

The program includes two components:

- i. An across-the-board (ATB) adjustment to salaries with some exceptions as outlined in the Annual Salary Increase Instructions; and,
- ii. An increase to salaries that will be based on merit, as determined through the annual performance assessment process.

Merit increase guidelines and any applicable ATB and merit amounts will be published annually in the Salary Increase Instructions for Senior Research Associates and Research Associates (Limited Term).

Movement through the salary range for Senior Research Associates should be accelerated up to the breakpoint, and rise more slowly above the breakpoint.

SALARY ADJUSTMENTS OTHER THAN ATB & MERIT

Other salary adjustments to base salary require the approval of the applicable division head; for Senior Research Associates adjustments to base salary that exceed the notional maximum require the approval of the Vice-President, Human Resources & Equity, upon the recommendation of the applicable division head.

SPECIAL RECOGNITION PROGRAM

A lump sum (OTO) payment may be awarded to a staff member to recognize extraordinary effort and/or contribution. Note: Such payments are not part of the staff member's regular salary and are not pensionable.

Special efforts or accomplishments may also be recognized in non-monetary formats, for example educational opportunities, special educational leave and/or funding, appreciation events and other forms of recognition appropriate to the specific circumstances.

Approval is required from the Vice-President, Human Resources and Equity for any lump sum (OTO) payments awarded to staff members in excess of a level set by the Vice-President, Human Resources and Equity and reported to the Senior Appointments and Compensation Committee, as required.

SECTION III: EMPLOYMENT CONDITIONS

POLICY: HOURS OF WORKCODE NUMBER: 3.01.08

Senior Research Associates and Research Associates (Limited Term), while expected to maintain effective liaison with their principal investigator or the individual to whom they report on their hours of work schedule, have a high degree of independence in scheduling their own time.

Staff members are expected to schedule their own work to meet the requirements of their position and to arrange their work schedule to accommodate both their obligations to the University and their family care responsibilities, health care appointments, religious observances, bereavement leave and other personal needs*. Staff members are expected to consult with their supervisor regarding individual work schedules, as appropriate.

USE OF VACATION CREDITS

Vacation credits may be used up to the amount which has been earned. Under exceptional circumstances, a principal investigator may allow use of vacation credits prior to their being earned.

While Research Associates (Limited Term) and Senior Research Associates have a high degree of independence in scheduling their own time, they should be encouraged to take their full annual vacation entitlement. In all cases staff members are required to take at least two weeks of their annual vacation entitlement. Vacation requests must be approved in advance by the principal investigator.

A Research Associate (Limited Term) or Senior Research Associate may accumulate vacation credits up to a maximum of the annual entitlement plus five days with the written approval of the principal investigator.

Where possible, a staff member should use all outstanding vacation credits prior to his/her last day of active employment. Accrued vacation will not be paid out except to the extent, if any, that payment may be required under the Employment Standards Act of Ontario.

VACATION RECORDS

Records of vacation earned and taken by each staff member will be maintained within the unit

SECTION III: EMPLOYMENT CONDITIONS

POLICY: PROBLEM RESOLUTIONCODE NUMBER: 3.01.11

INTRODUCTION

In any situation where conflicts or other problems arise between a Research Associate/Senior Research Associate and his or her colleagues, it is anticipated that the issue will be resolved through discussion and possibly through use of conciliatory techniques such as mediation and facilitation.

Employees should attempt to resolve issues as early as possible, before they have an opportunity to escalate. Employees are reminded in this Policy of the various supports available to aid them in resolving conflicts and other problems.

ELIGIBILITY

All Research Associates/Senior Research Associates who hold full or part-time appointments with the University including Research Associates/Senior Research Associates whose complaint pertains to the termination of their employment with the University.

CONSULTATION WITH HUMAN RESOURCES

If a Research Associate/Senior Research Associate requires assistance prior to raising a complaint, he/she is encouraged to discuss the issue with the manager/director of any human resources office, whether or not it is the HR office for the Research Associate/Senior Research Associate's own division. The HR manager/director can assist the Research Associate/Senior Research Associate in determining such matters as whether there is an issue that should be raised, how to raise it, with whom to raise it, and the range of resolutions that might be possible.

Supervisors who receive a complaint are also encouraged to seek advice from their divisional human resources offices.

PROCESS

Research Associates/Senior Research Associates are encouraged to resolve problems through full and open discussion of the problem with their immediate supervisor.

Where discussion with his/her immediate supervisor is not appropriate or fails to resolve the problem, the staff member may discuss the matter with, and if he/she wishes, present a written complaint to:

1. the person to whom the Research Associate/Senior Research Associate's immediate supervisor reports, and from there may proceed to raise the concern through successively higher levels of management to the division head until resolution is reached; or
2. the Vice-President, Human Resources & Equity, or designate if step 1 is not appropriate, for example in the case of employees who report directly to a division head.

If the Research Associate/Senior Research Associate follows step 1 and is not satisfied with the Division's response, he/she may discuss it directly with the Vice-President, Human Resources & Equity, or designate. Depending upon the type of issue raised, the University may, in its discretion, investigate further and/or upon the consent of the parties engage in facilitation or mediation.

Policies for Senior Research Associates & Research Associates (Limited Term)

Supervisors who receive complaints are encouraged to consider whether it would be useful to engage any internal or external resources such as mediation, facilitation or the Employee and Family Assistance Program.

An employee who raises a complaint under this Policy will receive a timely response. Such response may be verbal or written and will include an outline of the complaint, any steps taken to investigate the complaint, and the University's decision regarding the complaint. No employee shall be subject to reprisals for any complaint that he/she brings forward in good faith.

For any employee positions at a level or in a division of the organization where the process outlined above is not appropriate, this should be discussed with the Vice-President, Human Resources and Equity, or designate in order that an analogous process can be provided.

The University reserves the right to decline to apply this Policy in situations where a complaint is also pursued through another avenue.

A staff member may not remove or alter information in the Personnel File, but may request correction of information where s/he believes there is an error or omission. Staff members also have the right to add rebuttal documents to the file.

At the staff member's request, documents that recognize his/her job-related accomplishments, including certificates, diplomas, degrees, documentation of service on University committees and University or community offices held will be added to his/her Personnel File.

INTRODUCTION

All staff members have an obligation to report and discuss with the person to whom they report all such conflicts that the staff member believes, or an objective observer would believe, to be significant. If the person to whom the staff member reports concludes the activities constitutes a conflict of interest, the staff member may not continue to engage in them.

In requesting the approval, the staff member shall indicate in writing why the benefit should be conferred on, or the activity should be carried out by the person.

3. Conflict of Interest for Supervisor

5. Approval of Expenses

All expense claims made by staff members involving funds administered by the University require the signature of the person to whom the staff member reports.

6. Acceptance of Gifts

The acceptance of gifts or any other material benefit or favour from individuals who are associated with the University activities of the staff member, with the exception of minor gifts as token courtesies, is not normally permitted. [This provision does not require disclosure of personal activities with minor financial implications such as renting a basement apartment or cottage, operating a hobby farm, and which have no impact on the staff member's University's responsibilities.]

8. Confidentiality

All information about a staff member gathered under this Policy shall be held in strict confidence and not divulged to any other person, except for internal University administrative purposes required by Policy, or under the compulsion of the law, without the written consent of the staff member.

9. Supplementary Divisional or Departmental Guidelines

More detailed guidelines may be developed for particular divisions or departments, as appropriate and must be approved by the appropriate Vice-President.
