The meeting was held in Closed Session.

1. Chair’s Remarks and Orientation

[Ms Pepino was in the chair in place of Ms Kennedy who was delayed (due to inclement weather) in arriving to the meeting from an out of town engagement.]

The Chair welcomed the attendees to the meeting.

On behalf of the Governing Council, the Chair extended condolences to the family and friends of Chancellor Emeritus Michael Wilson who had died on February 10, 2019. The Chair noted that over an extraordinary career in business and public service, Chancellor Wilson’s contributions had been rooted in dignity, wisdom, and dedication. She remarked that Chancellor Wilson had considered it a privilege and honour to serve as the Chancellor of the University of Toronto from 2012 to 2018. He had embraced the role with passion and excitement; often commenting, with pride, on how satisfying it was for him to be able to continue to be a part of the University of Toronto’s family.

The Chair recalled that she had had the privilege of observing the quiet and unassuming manner in which Chancellor Wilson had spoken with, and encouraged, new graduates at the numerous convocation ceremonies over which he had presided. Chancellor Wilson’s advocacy work on mental illness had also been truly inspirational and had, without doubt, contributed to the paradigm shift in the way Canadians thought about it and responded to it. In closing, she noted that the University community had truly lost a remarkable friend and champion, but Chancellor Wilson had left behind a rich legacy.
2. Report of the President

Echoing the Chair’s remarks, the President note that the University community continued to mourn the loss of its Chancellor Emeritus Wilson, who had made a profound impact on the University and the county. The President described Chancellor Wilson as a wonderful man and said that it had been his privilege and pleasure to have worked along-side him for many years. Chancellor Wilson’s warmth at convocation ceremonies and his extraordinary courage and leadership in the field of mental health would not be forgotten. Finally, the President invited governors to sign the book of condolences at Simcoe Hall.

The President noted that the Boundless campaign had formally ended on December 31, 2018. The final figure for the campaign would be announced on March 19, 2019. The Boundless campaign had received gifts from over 101,000 unique donors, and the University was planning a ‘season of gratitude’ to thank its many benefactors. The University had entered the quiet phase of its next campaign – the Bicentennial campaign – timed to close around 2027, which would mark the University’s 200th birthday.

The Committee moved in camera.

The President continued his report and provide the Committee with an update on a series of matters.

The Committee returned to closed session.

3. Item for Endorsement and Forwarding to the Governing Council

Professor Mabury provided the highlights of the FitzGerald Building Revitalization capital project. Professor Mabury explained that the project had been made possible because the Faculties of Medicine and Dentistry had vacated the building for more modern laboratory space elsewhere on campus. This shift would make possible the transformation of the building from primarily wet-laboratory space to innovative mixed-use administrative space for approximately 300 people.

Professor Andrea Sass-Kortsak reported that at the meeting of the Academic Board held on January 31, 2019, members had asked question regarding the shared use of the space, privacy issues, and the socialization of staff in the newly planned design; the location and number of gender neutral washrooms and whether communal washrooms had been considered for the building. The Board was reassured by Professor Mabury that existing architectural features, such as fireplaces and staircases, would be maintained in the new design, as members were concerned unique features could be lost.
