2. Report of the President

The Committee moved in camera.

The President provided the Committee an update on a series of matters.

The Committee returned to closed session.
India and Hong Kong visits

Earlier in the month, the President had traveled to India and Hong Kong. In Mumbai, India, the President had delivered a keynote address at a day-long symposium on Urban Livability. The President had been invited by Tata Trusts, one of India’s largest charitable organizations. In Mumbai the President also attended the launch of the “Schools of Cities Alliance.” This initiative was expected to foster the University’s collaboration with Indian research institutes and municipalities, with a focus on addressing India’s pressing urban challenges.

Also in Mumbai, the President had been a special guest on a panel on global talent mobility that also featured Dean Tiff Macklem from the Joseph L. Rotman School of Management. This event had been organized by the ICICI Bank. The President had also hosted a well-attended recruitment and alumni event.

In Hong Kong, the President, on behalf of the University, celebrated a $25 million gift from alumnus, Dr. Edwin S.H. Leong. The Edwin S.H. Leong Centre for Healthy Children would work in collaboration with SickKids Hospital to develop innovative approaches to improving child health.

Gift from The Gerald Schwartz and Heather Reisman Foundation

The President informed the Committee that the University had received a major new $100 million gift from Gerald Schwartz and Heather Reisman to fund the Schwartz Reisman Innovation Centre (also known as the PIE Complex). The gift represented the largest donation in the University’s history.

The President noted that the gift would also support the launch of The Schwartz Reisman Institute for Technology and Society. The Institute would have a mission to bring together scholars from a broad range of disciplines to explore and address the technical, ethical and societal implications of artificial intelligence and other emerging technologies. The Centre would also serve as the new home of the Vector Institute for Artificial Intelligence.

Finally, the President acknowledged the team effort of the Vice-Presidential portfolios of Mr. David Palmer (Division of Advancement), Professor Scott Mabury (Operations and Real Estate Partnerships), and Professor Vivek Goel (Research and Innovation), that had worked with the Vice-President and Provost, in the realization of this project.

Federal Government

The President reported that on March 19, 2019, the federal government had tabled Budget 2019 – the last budget for the Liberal government before the federal elections in October 2019.

Some highlights of the Budget 2019 were:
• Starting in 2020-21, there would be an additional $150 million provided over four years to Employment and Social Development Canada to create partnerships with innovative businesses with a goal to create up to a further 20,000 work-integrated learning. In total, Budget 2019 set a target of creating 84,000 new student work placements across Canada by 2023-24. The President noted that the U-15 and the Business/Higher Education Roundtable had advocated extensively for such initiatives.

• $114 million over five-years, starting in 2019-20, with $26.5 million per year ongoing to the federal granting councils to create 500 additional master’s level scholarship awards annually and 167 more three-year doctoral scholarship awards through the Canada Graduate Scholarship program.

• Starting in 2019-20, a number of investments would be made to ensure that Indigenous students had better access to post-secondary education; and more support to ensure that they could succeed during their studies.

• An investment of $1.7 billion over five years, in the Canada Training Benefit program aimed to help working Canadians get the skills they needed to adapt in a changing workplace.

• An investment of $147.9 million in the International Education Strategy would help Canadian post-secondary students gain useful experience to succeed in a global economy through the development of a pilot outbound student mobility program.

• Federal granting councils would be provided funding to expand the parental leave coverage from six to twelve months for students and postdoctoral fellows who received granting council funding.

• There was a proposal to amend the Canada Student Financial Act, so that student loans would not accumulate any interest during the six-month non-repayment (the “grace period”) after a student loan borrower left school.

In closing this part of his Report, the President noted his continued appreciation for federal support of higher education and advanced research. He also expressed his concern that Budget 2019 had fallen short in the support for the indirect costs of research, but welcomed the opportunity to continue discussions on this subject with the Federal Government.

Provincial Government

The President noted that Ontario universities continued to wait for the final technical guidelines on tuition and ancillary fees from the Provincial government. The University would continue to meet with student groups to discuss the Student Choice Initiative – the initiative to provide students with the ability to ‘opt-out’ of fees deemed ‘non-essential.’

The Minister of Training, Colleges, and Universities, the Honorable Merrilee Fullerton, had announced that the colleges and universities in Ontario were required to have a task force devoted to addressing sexual violence on campus. The task forces would be required to include diverse student representations and to report their findings to their governance boards and to the MTCU. Post-secondary institutions would be required to review their sexual violence policies by September 2019.
The Chair echoed the President’s remarks on the generous gift from The Gerald Schwartz and Heather Reisman Foundation. She noted that the University was grateful and privileged to continue to attract such tremendous and remarkable support from its many benefactors. The Chair noted that this was a testament to the quality of the institution.
